

JOHN DELLIPRISCOLI

415-900-9054 | john.dellipriscoli@gmail.com | jdellipriscoli@holysfamily.edu

EDUCATION

Holy Family University, Philadelphia, PA
Ed.D. Organizational Leadership
Expected December 2028

In Progress

University of San Francisco, San Francisco, CA
M.S. International and Development Economics
Jacques Artus Award Winner for Outstanding Graduate Student in Cohort

2011 – 2013

Manhattan College, Riverdale, NY
B.A. Economics & International Studies
4-Year NCAA Division I Soccer Player: Captain Senior Year

2005 – 2009

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

Holy Family University, School of Business and Technology, Philadelphia, PA
Assistant Professor of Business, August 2024 – Present

Norwich University, School of Business and Management, Northfield, VT
Lecturer of Economics, August 2019 – May 2024

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Assistant Professor of Business, Holy Family University, School of Business and Technology

Economics Undergraduate Courses:

- ECON 203 – Microeconomics; Face-to-Face and Asynchronous Online sections (Fall 2024, Fall 2025)
- ECON 204 – Macroeconomics; Face-to-Face and Asynchronous Online sections (Spring 2025, Spring 2026, Fall 2026)
- SPM 310 – Economics of Sport; Face-to-Face and Asynchronous Online (Fall 2025, Fall 2026)
- PPES 381 – Economics of Money, Banking, and Financial Markets; Face-to-Face and Asynchronous Online (Spring 2026, Fall 2026)

Accounting Undergraduate Courses:

- ACCT 205 – Financial Accounting; Face to Face (Fall 2024)
- ACCT 206 – Managerial Accounting; Face to Face (Spring 2025)
- ACCT 416 – Accounting for Governments & Non-Profit Organizations; Asynchronous Online (Spring 2025, Spring 2026)

Lecturer of Economics, Norwich University, School of Business and Management

Economics Undergraduate Courses:

- EC106 – Structure and Operation of the World Economy (Fall 2022, Spring 2023, Fall 2023)
- EC201 – Macroeconomics (Spring 2021, Fall 2022, Spring 2023, Fall 2023; Spring 2024)
- EC202 – Microeconomics (Fall 2021, Fall 2022)
- EC299 – Sports Economics (Summer 2024)
- EC310 – Money & Banking (Fall 2023; Spring 2024)
- EC419 – International Economics (Fall 2021; Spring 2022; Spring 2023; Spring 2024)

Computer Science Undergraduate Courses:

- CS120 - Business Applications and Problem-Solving (Fall 2019, Spring 2020, Fall 2020, Spring 2021, Fall 2021)

PROFESSIONAL SERVICE

PPES Program Development Committee, Holy Family University, School of Arts and Sciences

Responsible for developing the upper-tier economic courses for the Philosophy, Political Science, Economics, and Sociology undergraduate major degree.

Taylor Award Committee Member, Holy Family University, School of Business and Technology

Voting member on small committee that approves faculty research grants. Served as Interim Chair for the 2025-2026 AY.

Advisor, Holy Family University, School of Business and Technology

30 – 40 Undergraduate Students per Academic Year

Advisor, Norwich University, School of Business and Management

20 – 30 Undergraduate Students per Academic Year

CONSULTING AND INDUSTRY EXPERIENCE

State of Vermont - Department of Labor, Montpelier, VT

2018

Data Analyst

- Compiled and analyzed labor market information, including employment, wage, and occupational data, to support state workforce policy and reporting.
- Supported program evaluation efforts by analyzing outcomes data for state workforce development initiatives.

Economic & Policy Resources, Inc., Williston, VT

2013 – 2017

Economist

- Performed economic, demographic, and financial forecasts to help inform policy and financial decision-making for a variety of clients, including private domestic and international firms as well as local and state governments.
- Designed and executed impact analyses to help a range of clients understand the effect of policy and investments on local, national, and international economies.
- Served as an expert economic witness in civil court cases performing forensic economic analyses and testifying in depositions and court.

SKILLS

Stata, R, Python, Bloomberg Terminal, Microsoft Office, Educational LMSs (Canvas, Moodle)